

Phil Oakley

Director, Kornit Digital.

Phil Oakley is a customer-focused business leader successfully developing and directing strategic initiatives in dynamic enterprise IT & Print industry sectors.

Having worked in technology for over 35 years within operational and commercial leadership roles, Phil has gained experience from working within innovative dotcom start-ups to corporates such as Kodak and HP.

Phil joined Kornit Digital almost three years ago to lead its UK&I business with a challenging ambition to drive sustainable transformation of the textile industry, with less than 5% of global textile output being digital.

Supporting the Kornit global vision, Phil will lead the UK to play its part in reducing over production of 2.5 billion+ apparel items. In turn this can lead to reduction of over 4.3 trillion litres of water and over 17 billion Kgs of greenhouse gas emissions.
