

Norv Bell – Founder - The Bureau Agency.

Norv Bell, was scouted as a model in Australia in 1998 whilst travelling, and has never looked back. Always looking for an opportunity, he established his own Agency after chatting to co-founder Jonny Sydes on a modelling job, and the rest is history.

The Bureau Agency is now an industry leading commercial model agency and photography studio, specialising in providing models for the garment and shoe fitting process.

Now offering 3D photogrammetry scanned Avatars of key fit models, The Bureau is continuously innovating, anticipating the ever-changing needs of brands navigating the transition between digital and physical fitting & design processes whilst always acting with their models' best interests at the forefront of their values. Having developed industry defining contracts, The Bureau protects the personal data of their models and ensures they are remunerated for its use.
